To Search the CV

The CV includes unique reference codes which link exhibitions and events to all relevant materials in the Bibliography and other sections, thus increasing search efficiency.

For materials related to a specific exhibition or event, first locate the event in the chronological resumé. The reference code, at the end of the event's line item, is formatted as YYMMtt—with YY the last two digits of the year; MM, the venue's first two initials; and tt, the event's first two initial letters, i.e.:

2021 Brooklyn Museum, Lorraine O'Grady: Both/And – 21BMba

Note: In the case of traveling exhibits, shows in different locations will also have a distinct code listed beside the original, to permit searching for materials related to a particular iteration. For example:

2022 Weatherspoon Art Museum, Lorraine O'Grady: Both/And – 21BMba, 22WAba

For Mac search, view the CV in Apple Preview (or other PDF-reader that returns search results in lists with clickable page numbers). Activate the search function using Command-F, enter the reference code in the search bar and click OK. This opens the side bar indicating page locations and number of occurrences per page.

For PC search, open the CV in Adobe Acrobat 11 (or other PDF-reader that returns search results in lists with clickable page numbers). Activate the search function using CTRL-F, enter the reference code in the search bar and hit ENTER. Then click the ≡ icon on the top left to display the side bar. All occurrences of the searched term will appear there.

Expanding on Simone Leigh’s presentation at the U.S. Pavilion for the 59th La Biennale di Venezia, Simone Leigh: Sovereignty, the symposium “Loophole of Retreat” brings together Black women artists, activists, and scholars to consider marronage, the manual, magical realism, medicine, and sovereignty. 7-9 October 2022. [Web. 22BVlo]
- 2022 Musée d’Orsay, Paris, France. Baudelairian Voices. “Lorraine O’Grady - ‘Fusées’ De Charles Baudelaire.” On the bicentennial of his birth in 1821, Charles Baudelaire’s work is read by artists and writers as part of an exhibition organized by the Musée d’Orsay. For the “Baudelairian Voices” program, O’Grady discusses Baudelaire and reads aloud “The Head of Hair”, “Even when she walks”, “Precious Notes” and “Those Pleasures”. [Web. 22MObv]
- 2022 Brooklyn Museum. Greetings and Theses. “An Evening with Lorraine O’Grady.” First screening of a film-in-progress that inaugurates O’Grady’s newest performance persona, The Knight, or Lancela Palm-and-Steel, on July 28, 2022. Made with footage shot at the Brooklyn Museum after her performance was canceled due to Covid-19. The film begins with O’Grady valiantly walking through her retrospective Both/And like an alien who’s never seen art before, wearing a 40-lb. suit of armor forged in white steel and an 8-lb. palm-tree headdress. It ends with her dancing in her carnivalesque suit of steel to a mix of three African Diaspora music genres of the Western Hemisphere—cumbia, Southern soul, and reggae. After the screening O’Grady, as herself, conversed with artist Sydney E. Vernon and curators Danielle A. Jackson, Catherine Morris, and Jenée-Daria Strand. [Web. 21BMba; 22BMgt]
